++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy and turning milder, with patchy rain moving in.

Today:
Generally rather cloudy with outbreaks of mostly light and patchy rain and drizzle moving in from the west. Some eastern areas should however remain dry. Turning milder, with a freshening southwesterly wind. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Often rather cloudy damp through the evening and overnight, and perhaps rather murky over high ground in the south. A few clear spells developing later in the night. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Perhaps a little early brightness, but rain soon arriving into the west and slowly edging east through the day, turning patchier as it does so. Winds falling light. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Further spells of rain possible on Wednesday. Mostly dry on Thursday and Friday with brighter intervals developing once morning fog clears. Daytime temperatures still a little above average.
